

SANGAM SNAPSHOT

Healing Touch

15th—24th November 2007

DAY 1

Getting to know each other on our first day. This is the beginning of our coming together at Sangam for our HEALING TOUCH session!

DAY 2

Yesterday went from the bustling chaos of the market place full of colour to peaceful meditation and contemplation of a diverse country and some of its challenges.

Day 3

A day of big contrasts! From exceptional good health facilities to poor facilities, however embedded in rich human warmth. We felt privileged to be shown around by such wonderful people.

Day 4

Although there are many miles between us, when we come back to guiding/scouting, there are no differences, only similarities we enjoy the same activities and we are able to laugh and work together

SANGAM SNAPSHOT

Healing Touch

15th—24th November 2007

DAY 5

At last we started the community action project-our reason for being here. Words used to describe what we saw were inspiring, friendly, challenging and frustrating. What could we do to improve their situation? The organizations are already doing so much.

Day 6

Girls Worldwide say "Community Action" Serving these communities warms the heart—the smiles are the best reward.

DAY 7

The group travelled to the third of Deep Griha slum areas. Next door, there was a relatively affluent neighbourhood. This emphasised the poverty of the children. However despite their lack of material goods, they were happy to see us, interact, and share with us

SANGAM SNAPSHOT

Healing Touch

15th-24th November 2007

Day 8

The unexpected sites and smells of hundreds of cows being tended so close to another world of shops and cafes

